How to Measure Your Child With Fitting Hints & Tips

SKIRTS

School skirts are sized by waist in inches. The size is described as (waist) 26 / 22 (length). For a kilt style skirt wrap a tape measure around the waist this should be just above the belly button. Add 1 to 2 inches to the measurement if you want growing room. Don't go too big as the hip measurement increases with the waist size. Use a waist adjuster if required to make the skirt a little snugger, or better still move the waist buttons on the kilt for a neat fit to the waist and hip tab if applicable. To check the length, measure from the waistline down the front to the knee area. Most skirts are required to be worn to around the knee area, for extra growing room you could go to the bottom of the knee. Some skirts are worn below the waist and sit on the top hip. Remember the hip is larger, it is not a waist measurement! it is very important not to roll a skirt with a zip as the zip will break. Larger waist sizes should wear a slightly longer length skirt to allow for correct fitting over the hip.

TROUSERS

Trousers are designed to be worn on the natural waist or just below. Wrap a tape measure around the waist this should be just above the belly button. Do not increase the measurement too much as the hip and crotch measurement increases with the waist size. Use a waist adjuster / belt if available to make the trouser a little snugger. Most trousers are a classic slim fit and are straight cut between the ankle and the knee to enable them to be turned up with ease. When standing without shoes the trouser hem should at least touch the floor. Some loose fabric around the trouser ankle is acceptable for growing room. Skinny trousers are not permitted.

BLAZERS

Blazers are measured in inches. Wrap the tape measure under the armpit and around the shoulder blades to measure the fullest part of the chest / bust in inches. The measure should be snug but don't puff the chest out. Just stand normally. If in between inches, it is advisable to go up to the next size. For growing room, we would suggest blazer sleeves should reach the knuckles, pinch an inch on each of the shoulders and buttons should be able to be done up comfortably.

JUMPERS

Jumpers are measured in inches. A jumper would likely be the same size as the blazer unless it is to be worn on the larger size. Remember the jumper must fit under the blazer so the bigger you make the jumper, the more restrictive a blazer can be particularly around the under arm and arm area. Turn the jumper cuff under for added growing room

SHIRTS/BLOUSES

A formal shirt is sized by collar size in inches and not chest measurement. Measure the neck in line with the bottom part of the Adam's apple. Allow for putting two fingers behind the tape where it crosses the Adam's apple to get the correct measurement. As the neck size increases on a garment, so too does the chest and shoulder measurement, so don't go too big otherwise the shirt will be baggy. Blouses are measured in inches. Use your chest measurement for your blouse. Make sure you allow extra room over the fullest part of the chest this will stop the buttons pulling.

SKORTS

Skorts are sized in inches and correspond to the waist only. So a 28/30 is a 28 to 30 inch waist. They are designed to be worn just below the waist skimming the belly button and not pulled up to the waistline. Whilst standing wrap a tape measure below the waist skimming the belly button and hold loosely. We recommend to add an inch or so to the measurement to allow for growing room. Skorts are elasticised at the waist. If bought too big they will feel uncomfortable as if they are falling down and the shorts underneath will be baggy.

SHORTS

Unisex shorts are sized either by inches and correspond to the waist only. So a 28/30 is a 28 to 30 inch waist or they will be SML/MED/LGE. They are designed to be worn just below the waist skimming the belly button and definitely not pulled up to the waistline. Whilst standing wrap a tape measure below the waist skimming the belly button and hold loosely. We recommend to add an inch or so to the measurement to allow for growing room. Shorts are elasticised at the waist. If bought too big they will feel uncomfortable as if they are falling down. Many shorts have an internal waist tie cord.

RUGBY SHIRTS

Rugby shirts are sized either by inches and correspond to the chest only. So a 28/30 is a 28 to 30 inch chest or they will be SML/MED/LGE. A fairly snug fit is recommended for a sublimated printed garment as opposed to a baggy style top. If the rugby shirt has long sleeves, one turn up is acceptable for growing room.

PE TOPS/POLOS

The PE Top's are sized either by inches and correspond to the chest only. So a 28/30 is a 28 to 30 inch chest or they will be SML/MED/LGE. These can be fitted loosely with more growing room, more so than bottoms which need to be more fitted. Often sports tops are dual sized in inches. Beware of going too big as this may lose the shape of the garment a little.

PE LEGGINGS

The leggings are sized either by inches and correspond to the waist only. So a 28/30 is a 28 to 30 inch waist or they will be SML/MED/LGE. They are designed to be worn at the waist or just skimming the belly button and worn either alone or under a skort. Whilst standing wrap a tape measure below the waist skimming the belly button and hold loosely. We recommend to buy slightly larger than your size to allow for growing room. Rucking up of fabric around the ankle is acceptable. Leggings are elasticised at the waist. If bought too big they will feel uncomfortable as if they are falling down or too loose around the leg.

TRACK PANT/JOGGERS

The track pants are sized either by inches and correspond to the waist only. So a 28/30 is a 28 to 30 inch waist or they will be SML/MED/LGE. They are designed to be worn just below the waist skimming the belly button and definitely not pulled up to the waistline. Whilst standing wrap a tape measure below the waist skimming the belly button and hold loosely. We recommend to add an inch or so to the measurement to allow for growing room and possibly wearing shorts underneath. Track pants are elasticised at the waist. If bought too big they will feel uncomfortable as if they are falling down. Many have an internal waist tie cord.
